EXTRACTS FROM

THE

ACCOUNT ROLLS

OF THE

ABBEY OF DURHAM,

FROM THE ORIGINAL MSS.

VOL. I.

Published for the Society

1898.

At a Meeting of the Council of the SURTEES SOCIETY, held in Durham Castle on June 1st, 1897, the DEAN OF DURHAM in the chair.

It was resolved,

That a Volume of Extracts from the Rolls of the Officials of the Priory of Durham should be edited by CANON FOWLER.

And at a similar Meeting, held on December 7th, 1897.

It was ordered,

That a Volume of Extracts from the Rolls of the Officials of the Priory of Durham, to be edited by CANON FOWLER, be one of the Volumes for the year 1898.

WILLIAM BROWN,
Secretary.

PREFACE.

THE history of the publication of these Extracts is as follows. Some three or four years ago the Editor had almost completed, for the Surtees Society, an annotated edition of the Rites of Durham, when his attention was directed by Canon Greenwell to some post-Reformation documents that seemed likely to become serviceable in connexion with Rites. This suggestion proved to be well-founded, but it led to an examination of the later of the pre-Reformation Rolls, and this further research was yet more productive. Next it was found that all the Rolls must be gone through, for there was no saying what valuable illustrations they might not afford. The first idea of extracts included in the notes on Rites soon grew into that of an Appendix. Then it proved that such Appendix must be, like that to the Scriptores Tres, larger than the book itself, and so it was found that the Account-Rolls must be issued as an independent volume, which could be referred to in the notes on Rites. This volume has finally grown into three, which will be issued with one continuous pagination, and with a general index and glossary to the whole at the end of Vol. III. With that volume will also be issued something by way of general introduction, if space permit.

The Surtees Society has already issued the Durham Household Book, 1530–34, and Inventories and Account-Rolls of the Cells of Finchale, Coldingham, Jarrow, and Monkwearmouth. Dr. Raine has given translations of extracts from the Feretrars' and other Rolls in his St. Cuthbert, and in his Brief Account of Durham Cathedral. Mr. Blakiston has recently edited extracts from the Account-Rolls of Durham College for the Oxford Historical Society. But the rich mine of the extant Rolls of the great Abbey of Durham itself has hitherto remained for the most part unworked.

The Editor has done the best that he could with so vast a mass of material in the space of time that could be devoted to it. It has been, of course, out of the question to give more than a very few rolls in extenso, by way of specimens. In the case of the others, those particulars which seemed of most interest or importance have been extracted under their various heads. In such a work it has been difficult to avoid some needless repetitions, and it is to be feared that some things may have been omitted that ought to have been included. But the original rolls will remain at the service of any scholars who may be stimulated to further research, and, should the gleaning of the grapes ever prove to be better than the vintage, no one would be better pleased than the present Editor. It is believed, however, that the flavour of the latter will be found quite equal to that of anything of the same kind that has hitherto been provided for such as care for these matters.

No Roll has been left without mention of some kind, and the following pages include, at any rate, a complete calendar of the whole series, from which lists of the various obedientaries or monastic officers might easily be compiled.

The Table of Contents will shew what is to be found in the present volume. Vol. II will include the Commoners', Terrars', Stock-keepers', Marescalcia Prioris, Sacrists', and Feretrars' Rolls, most of which matter is already in type. Vol. III will contain the Bursars' Rolls and other matter, now ready to be printed whenever the Society can undertake it. And the Editor hopes that, when that is out, he will be able at once to complete the preparation of the long-expected volume on the Rites of Durham.

[1] Mr. Percy J. Heawood has ascertained that the eclipse of January 31st, A.D. 1310, was an annular one. According to his calculation, the time of maximum obscuration at Durham was 1 h. 7 m. p.m., and the moon would then have covered nearly seven-eighths of the sun's disc, leaving a small crescent visible on the upper and western side of the dark face of the moon. The eclipse would thus present a striking, though not annular, appearance at Durham, and a considerable amount of darkness would be caused.

ROTULI MAGISTRORUM INFIRMARIE.

These rolls are very short, dealing with about £10 per annum. But they contain many interesting entries.

The first is much decayed and faded; indented on top; the date "Mill'mo ccclij$^{do}$" can just be discerned in the heading, and on the back is written in an old but later hand, "M. de Chilton 1352."

It begins with a Status or list of goods, in which can be made out:—ij paria linthiaminum pro altare, ij missalia defectiva, ij manutergia, j calefactorium, j pixid' ebur', . . (p)ortifor. et j in duobus voluminibus, iij gradalia, iij mortuaria, j antiphonarium non notatum, j psalterium, iiij candel. . . ij paria trestes, x mappe, ix manutergia, iiij sawnapes, iiij rotund', xx coclear' argent', ij ciphi murrei, xij quissynes unius secte et xj alius secte, v pelves, iiij lotoria, j lo . . . iij urceoli, j parva patella, j calefactorium pro pomis, x cathedre lignee, j grydel pro pane, iij . . . mortar' erea cum ij pilis, iij camin' ferri.
